ACTIVITY REPORT

Alumni contributions to the college fest "Comida Fiesta" bring numerous benefits to both students and the institution. Alumni, with their vast industry experience, provide valuable insights that can elevate the quality of the event. They often return as guest speakers, sharing their professional journeys and offering practical advice, which greatly enhances students' learning experiences. Their involvement in planning and executing the fest helps in bridging the gap between academic knowledge and industry practices.

Tushar Shetty, a 2009-10 batch alumnus and the owner of Hotel Metro, recently contributed ₹15,000 to Comida Fiesta. His generous contribution not only boosted the fest's budget but also served as an inspiration for current students, demonstrating the impact that alumni can have on enhancing the college experience.

For students, interacting with alumni like Tushar Shetty provides networking opportunities, helping them build connections that could lead to internships or job placements. It also inspires them to envision their future careers by seeing the successes of those who once stood in their shoes. Alumni contributions can also include sponsorships or donations, which enhance the fest's overall budget, allowing for more creative and high-quality programming.

For the college, strong alumni involvement boosts its reputation, showcasing a vibrant and engaged community that remains connected beyond graduation. It reflects the institution's ability to produce successful professionals who are willing to give back, thereby attracting prospective students. Overall, alumni contributions to Comida Fiesta enrich the experience for current students while reinforcing the college's legacy and industry standing.
